

IN ALL WEATHER
A book on the Korean War
By Peter Chapman

Peter Chapman is a former South African who now resides in Auckland, New Zealand. His late father, Charles Chapman, was a ground crew member of No.2 Squadron, South African Air Force, which served with the USAF 18th Fighter Bomber Wing in Korea during the Korean War.

Following his death in 1994, Peter researched and wrote a book on No.2 Squadron SAAF in Korea, and particularly about the ground crew who served with the squadron. He was able to obtain the assistance of nine men who served either as mechanics or armourers in No.2 Squadron, and included their recollections in his book.

After many false starts with a number of publishers, Peter has elected to publish the book privately. It is now finally available in both hard cover and soft cover versions, through <http://www.lulu.com>

The links to each book are:

<http://www.lulu.com/content/276251> (Hard cover)

<http://www.lulu.com/content/259534> (Soft cover).

Copies can be ordered directly from these links.

Peter can be contacted at peter.chapman1@gmail.com

